SUMMARY

In the permitting stages for the 500 acre Master Planned Community offers prospective developers a shovel ready mixed use project containing single family ocean view lots, multiple condominium building pads as well as a beautiful hotel site at the top of the property. Finca Valencia is poised to benefit from the surge in real estate activity in the central pacific coast region resulting from the recent completion of the new Caldera highway from the capital city of San Jose to the pacific port of Caldera. The ability to conveniently access Finca Valencia allows residents and tourists to quickly reach their resort destination from the international airport and allows individual property owners an easy commute to San Jose for high end shopping at the mega mall or a 5 star meal at one of the cities premier
